Masterack Adds New Strategic Leadership

DECATUR, GA – January 29, 2019 -- Masterack, manufacturer and installer of commercial van and pickup truck interiors and accessories, announces new additions to key leadership roles.

Beginning with the addition of Ken Kozicki, President and Chief Operations Officer, back in June of 2018, the company has begun to build a team poised to elevate the organization in products and service. Mr. Kozicki joins Masterack after holding executive roles at Myers Industries, including President of Myers do Brasil and General Manager of International Distribution where he successfully led the division to profitability and divestiture. He began his career as an engineer with Ford Motor Company before establishing a strong track record in sales and marketing at Rogers Corporation and AutosplICE. Mr. Kozicki earned a Masters of Engineering from the University of Illinois and a Masters of Business Administration from the University of Detroit.

"I look forward to working with all levels of my staff, to deliver the highest quality products to our customers on time, every time," said Mr. Kozicki. "We have added to our leadership team in order to position the company for success. We look forward to Masterack's future and are committed to working with our customers to ensure that we deliver best-in-class performance."

Vice President of Operations, Glynn Meienburg, will oversee operations for the company's manufacturing and installation facilities, utilizing his more than 30 years of experience in production operations and material strategies with Alcon, General Motors, and Lockheed Martin. Merry Beth Stephens has joined Masterack as Director of Human Resources after more than 10 years at Johnson Controls and brings a new focus on strategic organization, coaching operations, and culture development to the Masterack team. And, Adam Brown, Executive Director of Distribution, will be working to reposition Masterack Products with sales, new product development, and marketing teams to drive strategic business. Adam previously held sales and client-relationship positions at Verizon, Ryder Truck, and Enterprise.
